

Front end Developer

London and Chichester, West Sussex

Outline Opportunity

About us

We're a rapidly growing digital agency that specialises in software development and the optimisation of digital marketing. We work with enterprise clients across Europe and the US. We focus on developing high performance online solutions and improving the performance of our clients' digital marketing activities. Working with household name British retail giants with global reach, you'll be working on high-traffic and very interactive ecommerce web sites/applications.

Job Description

We're looking for passionate Front end developers with at least 2 years experience and extensive knowledge of HTML5, CSS, JavaScript & responsive web development. The Front end developer will be heavily involved in user-centric application development.

Roles are based in London and/or Chichester.

Responsibilities:

- Collaborate with the creative and account teams to deliver great digital projects, on time and on specification
- Daily communication of technical matters among internal team as well as external partners and client contacts.
- Analyse requirements, wireframes and capabilities of related systems to propose appropriate solutions
- Build and design fully responsive websites that achieve clients goals
- Take a website from initial layout to a fully responsive, functioning, live site
- Embed tracking codes and take an active interest in delivering ever-improving online outcomes (registrations, conversions, etc.)
- Build on content management systems — predominantly Drupal
- knowledge of Adobe Experience Manager and WordPress would also be useful
- Use HTML / CSS / JavaScript to develop visually stunning, user-driven websites, web applications, widgets, portals and apps
- Maintain working knowledge of content management and eCommerce solutions
- Maintain beautiful and well-documented code
- Connect to third-party platforms using various APIs
- Proactively perform cross-browser testing and optimizations

About You:

The ideal candidate is a web development expert who's seeking his/her next challenge. Advanced interpersonal skills are a must as we work in a collaborative team environment including client Product Owners as part of the team(s). We would expect you to have a real passion and knowledge of web and mobile technologies, an eye for superb user experience and an entrepreneurial attitude to excite your colleagues and our clients with your ideas.

This is an exciting opportunity to join an established friendly close knit team providing web applications and associated infrastructure support to large corporate clients worldwide.

Salary and Remuneration

We offer an attractive salary and remuneration package depending upon individual skills and experiences.

About Us

Unipro started in 1997 and we have built our solid reputation by designing, implementing and managing inspired technology solutions for medium to large organisations. We deliver high-performance, cost-effective business applications to an ever-expanding base of retail and commercial clients, on-time and within budget.

Even though we have many years of experience in integrating a wide range of legacy and bespoke systems and developing up-to-date multi-channel ecommerce platforms, we now primarily specialise in Drupal implementations – usually for clients and projects that have demanding, multi-faceted integration requirements.
